Professional Computer Systems, Co. Partners with ProfitStars

Denison, IA – July 22, 2008. Professional Computer Systems, Co. (PCS) is pleased to team up with ProfitStars. ProfitStars specializes in a service called Synergy Enterprise Content Management in addition to a variety of enterprise solutions. Synergy Content Management leverages the latest imaging and storage technology to provide an enterprise-wide electronic content management solution. This solution captures, stores, and accesses all of the documents companies use, including statements, customer e-mails, and other correspondence. These document images can then be stored on a server at the utility or Internet; or network-based document access is available.

Enterprise Content Management by ProfitStars is just one more way for PCS to provide a larger array of services to PCS's current CIS/billing, accounting, online and hosting solutions.

Ted Williams, Jr., of ProfitStars states "The expanded partnership arrangement between ProfitStars and PCS includes the ProfitStars Synergy Enterprise Content Management solution suite. This solution will provide PCS customers the opportunity to create efficiencies in their businesses by eliminating the inefficiencies inherent to paper based record systems. Eliminating paper and utilizing an electronic records system affords PCS customers the potential to improve productivity, enhance customer service, control costs, provide for disaster recovery and support internal compliance, privacy and security standards."

"We are excited about the new partnership with ProfitStars and look forward to working ProfitStars" says Kim Ingerslev, President and CEO of PCS. "We believe this is the type of product and service our customers will be looking for now and in the future."
